Q: Can Joomla or PHP solve the issues with Yahoo (YUI) Slider? I just noticed that YUI Slider is not supported on Joomla 2.5.x. Now that I have a web site using YUI 3, I started thinking about what happens if my client can't upgrade to Joomla 3.0 or higher. I know I can write a simple module for it, but I wonder if there's a way to make it work with Joomla 2.5.x. I know the former Joomla versions already support YUI and I'd like to have a site that works with older versions of Joomla. Thanks.

A: You can use the jquery.yui-min.js file from the yui-min module which also supports versions 2.6.0 to 3.4.0. You will need to change the jQuery library used by this module, so you will need to either use 2.x.x or 3.x.x version.

Q: adding up numbers in a sorted array I have an array: `int arr[] = {3,6,9,2,7,1,4,8,5};` and the user inputs some numbers, lets say they input 2,3,4 and the final result is 18 (2+3+4=18). I tried to do this, but it didn't work...

int sum = 0;
for (int i = 0; i #include int main() {
std::string input;
int sum = 0;
std::cout
```

Seems nice and easy. 3.50 21 Apr 2013 Having worked on it only for 5 minutes, this app seems quite good, BUT there are some things that are missing and that are not mentioned anywhere. For example: I tried to find the option to open the subtitles in an external player. How did it go for me? I clicked the option to import to tsMuxer (which is a free software) and it worked perfectly. BUT: I opened the subtitles in tsMuxer, and when I started watching my movie, I couldn't see the subtitles, because the player was not playing in full screen mode. So how can I import to tsMuxer and have subtitles visible when watching my movies in the full screen? 3.50 25 Mar 2013 I used it to make subtitles for my DVD. Only thing is that I wanted to see the subtitles in full screen, so I chose the option for tsMuxer, which worked perfectly fine. I am still not sure, how to export the subtitles for viewing on another player. In the main window of easySUP, there is a button that says "export" and it takes you to a new window, where you can choose the output format. Do you know what
