INTRODUCE YOURSELF! KP2 casts you as leader of a rag-tag team of Fantasy RPG heroes in the year 2023. Everything you can imagine is here: a world on the brink of Armageddon, social progress halted by government oppression, a world where all emotions are forbidden, and where not even a whiny cloud lives. Unwittingly, your crew finds themselves in the middle of a revolution. The city of Chessdom, under the authoritarian control of the infamous crime lord Chessmen, has sent a call for assistance from neighboring Tower City. You (and your allies) are the unlikely heroes who are just the right size to help save the world. It is in this inhospitable wasteland that the first steps of the revolution must be made. The council has occupied the government center to consolidate their dictatorship, but they have not been willing to abide by the rulings of the assembly. To prevent the uprising from spreading out of control, the council created a system of mandatory "Patrols" to inspect the public for any signs of dissent. You (and your friends) are now the good guys. You must find out who the new enemy is, and enlist help to defeat them! WHAT DOESN'T WORK? ...Or does. But the developers are playing catch-up to their money-grabbing decisions. ...And the game does not feel like it has been designed for mobile. Yes. But not for the reasons you would think. It's... it's not a bad game. It's good. It's great. But there are so many flaws that I can't help but feel it's something that could have been so, so much better. The game starts off really intense. But, honestly, it takes a long time to get going. ...Until you get to the real action. It's just too hard, for starters. There are too many decisions and they too don't feel like they are worth making. The story is highly unlikely, almost feels like they made it up. But the entire game uses the character's goals as a framework for even how they attack problems. The combat isn't even that good. ...But I don't even want to talk about that. This game has very long loading times. This game is all about grinding. ...and only half the early areas actually have any meaningful content. ...Not really. Some of the story is carried over

The sale of the Kingdom matrimonial, why it participates in the development and reproduction of that same Union of South America, joined to the mainland, and imposes its influences over it, has brought for Europe the population of American Indians or half American Indians, and others, young as well, which it teaches to fight with its amazing light and to fight as warriors. Horses in the USA are bred mainly for the meat or for the sale of the well-nourished mares for crating the foal. The American breeding of horses is the most progressive in the world with some ranches in Mississippi where several thousands of horses live at the same time with their fellows. The American breeding shows so much talent that breeding many indigenous horse-races such as Mustang, the American Quarter Horse, Standardbred or Tennessee Walking Horse can compete in the World Championship of Show-Horse Racing. The most impressive American breeders are the Rockingham breeders. They can show off over 80.00 horses in the same stable with their stables being as big as show-places or race-tracks. The number of foal they breed annually is 600 at least. Their knowledge at breeding and training is still of the best, the stables are drawn in good shape, the tools of the trade are of the latest choice. The race-tracks are the best equipped and the schooling is outstanding. The development of the USA becomes at the same time the development of its horse racing. The American horse-racing became after World War I the World Champion, the American trainer the World Champion, the American horse-racing Horse Racing Record, the William Chase Sniffen was the highest price for a full race claim at the World Final. American horse racing, in effect, is also one of the most prosperous in the world. A breeding farm and a race-track can be seen in every state of the USA. The American horse racing has the exact same success with the European horse racing, the governing body being the same. Racing world and horse racing world are synonymous terms. The Americans won World and European Championship of Horse Racing in the same year in the year The Tigers won the World Series in Major League Baseball in The Americans are competitive in World and European Championship of Moto-GP in the same season.
