The game is a first person adventure game where you are put on a tour by your uncle in various parts of the US. You will be asked to take photos, listen to some audio, and interact with the environment. You will be asked to do many of the things you always do when you travel, like taking photos, using a mapping app, and switching apps. This is what you would do if you were on vacation. By the way, you can interact with the environment in many ways, like lifting leaves, studying them closely, discovering secret places, and more. Some of these activities will require that you have a certain amount of money, and others that you have a certain amount of chips. By the way, you can also lose your chips, and you will start to feel the weight of the world on your shoulders. You can even start to feel sad and cry. Don't worry, though, the sad scene will not last forever. Features: - You are placed on a tour in the US, with your uncle, who is your guide. I also picked up this book from Amazon [1], but I found it a bit unstructured (for example, I've played games in locations I had never visited with my significant other before). I guess it may have been more effective when it was first published.
